Day 2 (Tuesday – 22nd June 2020)

Topic: Using Selenium IDE for Testing Web Application

(<https://stannes1.webex.com/stannes1/j.php?MTID=m7fcd1fa85a8688c69bfd3ef317c0e307>)

Second Day session started at 3:00PM, by welcoming the delegates Ms.Neha Mantri was the MC and host for the day 2 session, and the speaker was Prof.(Dr) Madhwaraj Kango Gopal, on the continuity of the day one session sir gave hands on experience on working with Selenium IDE, he explained the naming convention for placing project title which plays a major role and the steps involved during the test cases are,

- Launch Firefox browser.
- Click on the Selenium icon present on the top right corner on to your browser.
- It will launch the default interface of Selenium IDE.
- Enter the project name as "Stanntc1".
- Enter the test case name as "Search Test".
- Click on the command text box present on the Test Script Editor Box.
- Modify the properties of First command as:
 - a) Command : open
 - b) Target : <https://www.way2sms.com>
 - c) During execution of the test case, this command will load the Google search engine web page on your Firefox browser.

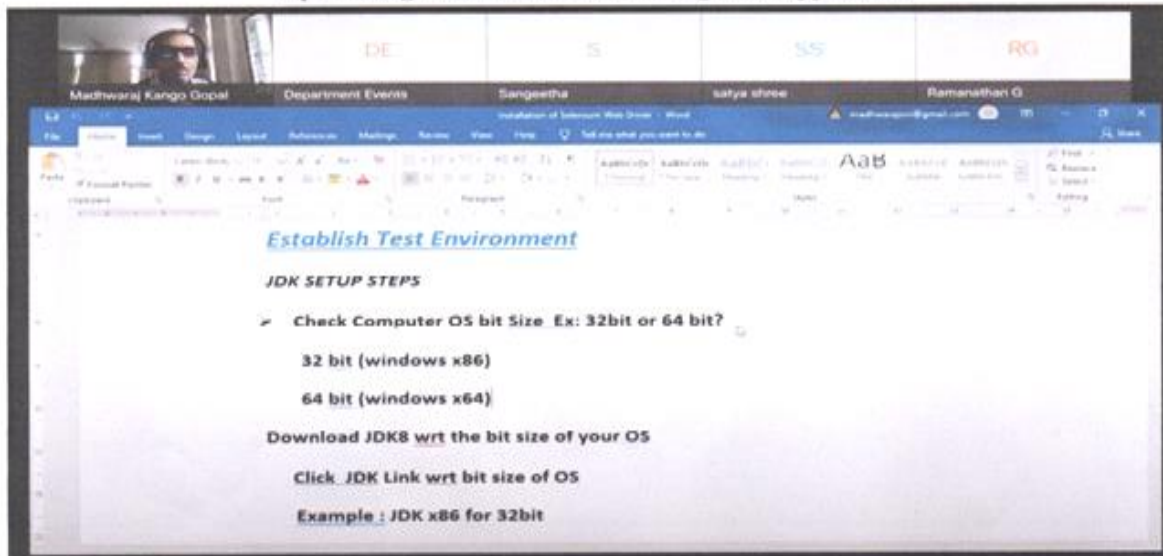

A Selenium IDE test suite is a set of tests in a project that are run together as a single entity. With the use of Selenium IDE he explained how the test cases are tested for zero error. whenever the test cases are passed, the comments are converted or gets highlighted with green color . if the test cases are failed its highlighted with red color.

The day 2 session ended with questionere and vote of thank by First year BCA student Ms.Shalini A.S and feedback link was posted in chat box. "<https://forms.gle/BHDNvaUTc2rFDW1H8>"

JDK SETUP STEPS

- Check Computer OS bit Size Ex: 32bit or 64 bit?
 - 32 bit (windows x86)
 - 64 bit (windows x64)

Download JDK8 wrt the bit size of your OS

Click JDK Link wrt bit size of OS

Example : JDK x86 for 32bit

Day 3 (Wednesday – 23rd June 2020)
Topic: Selenium Web Driver-Automating and Scripting
(URL Link Day 3:

<https://stannes1.webex.com/stannes1/j.php?MTID=m343b609e52f29eda474440c614df8978>)

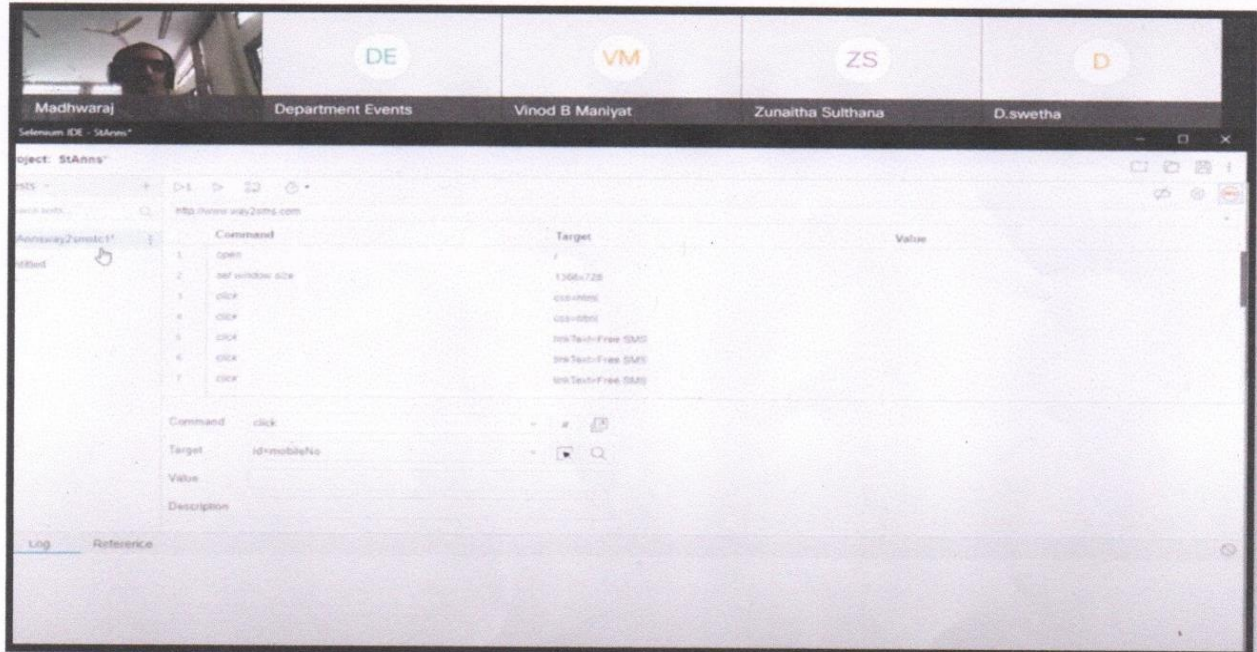

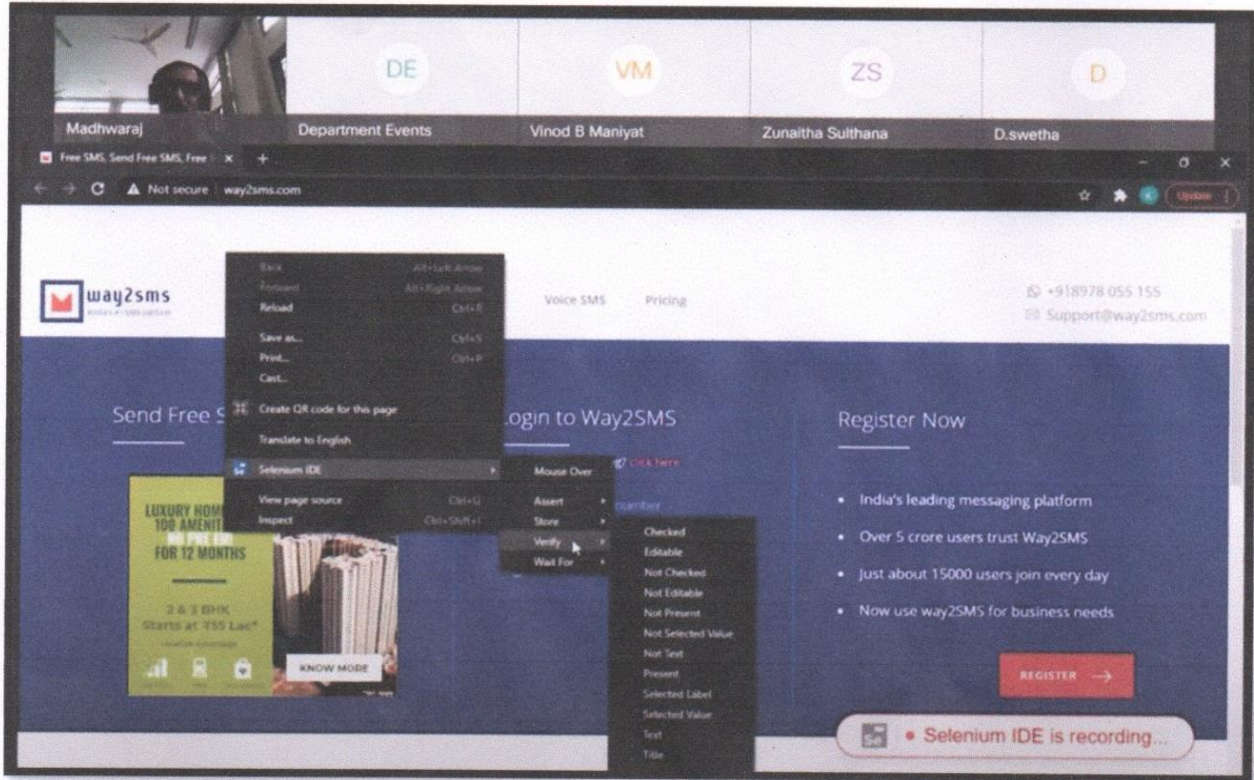

Third Day session started at 3:00PM , by welcoming the delegates Ms.Neha Mantri was the MC and host for the day 3 session, and the speaker for the day was Prof. (Dr) Madhwaraj Kango Gopal he continued his demo session on how to install the Server-Selenium Driver. Selenium is a collection of open-source APIs which are used to automate the testing of a web application. Selenium WebDriver tool is used to automate the web application testing to verify that it works as expected. It supports many browsers such as Firefox, Chrome, IE, and Safari. The steps to be followed while installing the web driver such as.

- 1) Check computer OS bit size (Ex 32bit, 64bit)
- 2) Download JDK8(Ex JDK x86 32 bit)
- 3) Go to JDK folder
- 4) Copy the path of JDK folder (Ex: C:\ProgramFiles\Java\JDK1.8.0)
- 5) Right Click on MyComputer Icon
- 6) Go to Properties of your system
- 7) Advanced System Settings
- 8) Environment Variables

He also explained about executing a test script using WebDriver.

Day 3 (Wednesday – 23rd June 2020)
Topic: Selenium Web Driver-Automating and Scripting

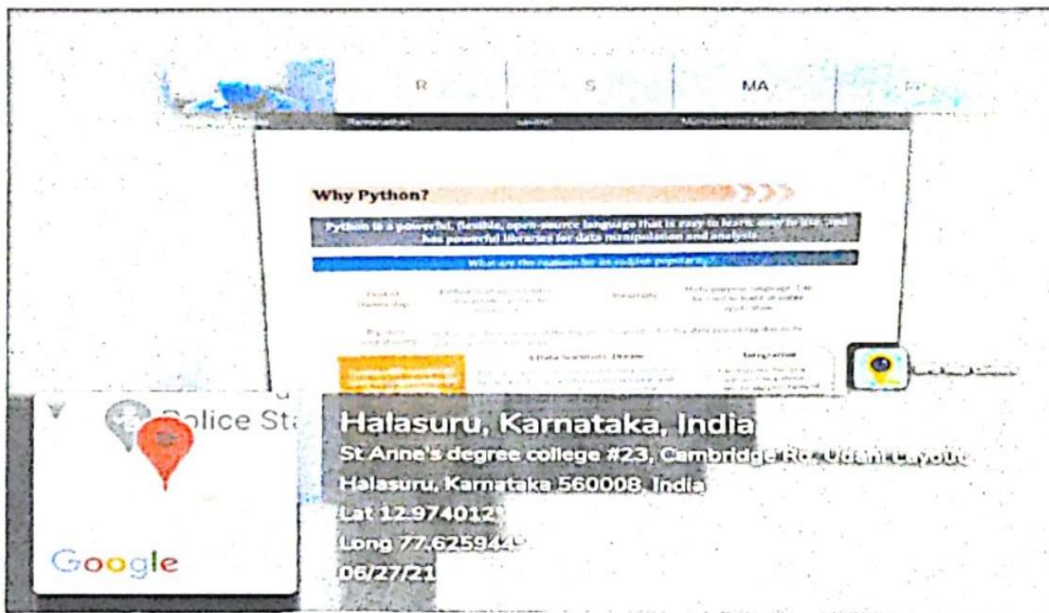

Day 4(Friday – 24th June 2020)
Topic: Machine Learning Algorithm

Fourth Day session started at 3:00PM , by welcoming the delegates Ms.Marina was the MC and host for the day 4 session the speaker was Mr.Premanjan Biswas (Data Analyst, Corporate Trainer, Big Data and Statistics Department of Reserve Bank of India under the supervision of Computer Society of India, Calcutta). He gave brief introduction about Machine learning algorithms, Machine learning (ML) algorithms are broadly categorized as either supervised or unsupervised.

He gave brief note to python as it is a powerful, flexible, open – source language that is easy to learn and has powerful libraries for data manipulation and analysis.He gave difference between Anaconda Distribution and other Python IDE toolsA brief explanation about the difference between the concept of supervised and unsupervised algorithm and the use of essential python libraries.

He showed an hands on experience on Jupyter IDE the working of Python Programming . The fourth day session ended with the questionnaire and vote of thanks was given by Ms.Pradeepa and feedback link was posted in the chat box.

Day 4: Mr.Premanjan Biswas

Speaking about the concept of Python

Day 4(Friday – 24th June 2020) Topic: Machine Learning Algorithm

Day 7&8 Topic: Linear Regression

1. Simple Linear Regression
2. Multiple Linear Regression

"CORRELATION ANALYSIS IS CONCERN WITH KNOWING WHETHER THERE IS A RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN VARIABLES AND HOW STRONG THE RELATIONSHIP IS. REGRESSION ANALYSIS IS CONCERN WITH FINDING A FORMULA THAT REPRESENTS THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN VARIABLES SO AS TO FIND AN APPROXIMATE VALUE OF ONE VARIABLE FROM THE VALUE OF THE OTHER(S)"

Assumptions of Simple Linear Regression

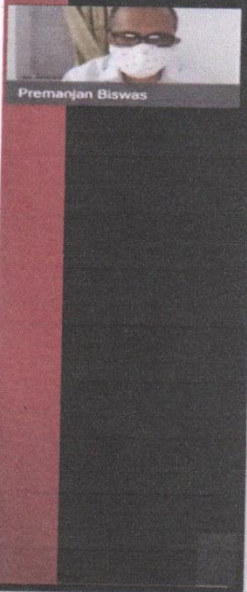

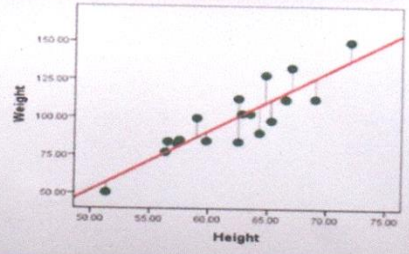

- ❑ An UNILINEAR CAUSALITY between an independent and dependent variable can be represented by a LINEAR REGRESSION.
- ❑ The independent variable must be NON-STOCHASTIC in nature, i.e. the variable doesn't have any distribution associated with it.
- ❑ The model must be linear in parameters.
- ❑ The independent variable should not be correlated with the error term.
- ❑ The error terms must be independent of each other, i.e. occurrence of one error term should not influence the occurrence of other error terms.

The Method of Least Squares

The method of least squares is a way of finding the line that best fits the data. Of all the possible lines that could be drawn, the line of best fit is the one which results in the least amount of difference between the observed data points and the line.

The following figure shows that when any line is fitted to a set of data, there will be small differences between the line and the actual data. We are interested in the vertical differences between the line and the actual data because we are using the line to predict the values of Y from the values of X. Some of these differences are positive (they are above the line, indicating that the model underestimates their value) and some are negative (they are below the line, indicating that the model overestimates their value).

Day 5(Friday – 25th June 2020)
Topic: Machine Learning Algorithm Using Python

Fifthth Day session started at 3:00PM , by welcoming the delegates Ms.Eva Sandhya Raj I was the MC and host for the day 5 session ,the speaker was Mr.Premanjan Biswas,gave , he started a session with the explanation of linear regression analysis where we can use the predictable model to our data and use that model to predict values to the dependent variables from one or more independent , he also told how to draw a straight line on a graph . He explained different machine learning algorithms which includes multiple regression, logistic regression model.

He also showed how to evaluate the model, and explained the model summary in detail. Sir, explained about decision tree algorithm also.

He also addressed the topic on Tree Based algorithm in pyhton and how does it work with an example (split on gender and split on height).

The fifth day session ended with questionnaire session and vote of thanks was given by Ms.Marina B, where HOD thanked the management, principal, Speakers and peer team members of Department of Computer Applications and thanked all the delegates who had actively participated for all the five days of workshop, further feedback link was posted on to the chatbox and the E Certificates was sent to each delegates via e mail.

2. Multiple Linear Regression

Simple regression seeks to predict an outcome variable from a single predictor variable whereas multiple regression seeks to predict an outcome from several predictors.

We can predict any data using the following general equation:

$$\text{Outcome} = (\text{Model}) + \text{Error}$$

The model that we fit to our data is the linear model just means a model based on a straight line. One can emphasize it by trying to summarize a data set with a straight line.

Graph: Summarizing data in a straight line.

Dear Dr. K. G Madhwaraj,

Greetings from Department of Computer Applications, St. Anne's Degree College for women, Bangalore-8.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

St. Anne's Degree College for Women at Halasuru, established in 2005, is administered by the Society of Sisters of St. Anne-Madras born out of the Educational Vision of the Servant of God Mother Thatipatri Gnanamma, a visionary and missionary who dedicated her life to enlighten and educate young girls. In consonance with the philosophy of the congregation, the college aims at providing humanizing and liberalizing education to form responsible citizens who in solidarity with others create a just society.

The college is affiliated to Bengaluru City University and is recognized under 2(f) of the UGC act 1956. Accreditation by NAAC and ISO certification are the testimony for the quality higher educational service of the college. The college offers B.Com, BBA, BCA, B.Sc(Physics, Mathematics & Computer Science), B.Sc(Rehabilitation Science, Psychology & Sociology) M.Com, MA(English) and M.Sc(Psychology) programmes with a vibrant student life.

St. Anne's College aims to develop high academic standards and inculcate values of leadership, commitment and selfless service. A student-centric, participatory teaching-learning-evaluation system assures the students of optimal educational benefits. University gold medalists and University rank holders add feathers to the cap in the academic journey of the College.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The department of BBA with the revised curriculum of Bengaluru City University extends accumulation of knowledge, attainment of skills, understanding and applicability according to the changing environment in industry. The students acquire computer skills, entrepreneurial skills, leadership qualities and learn investment tactics. Besides, they undergo Business Skill Development Courses which include Community Service, Case discussions, Industrial visits and Internships. The BBA programme provides the students the opportunity to go forward in the broad range of professional directions and build sound and rewarding careers to compete effectively in today's fast paced world.

ABOUT THE STUDENT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

Adaptability is the key to survival in any phase of life. The current circumstances of the pandemic have set a similar precedence, where those who have adapted and adopted new skills in-line with changing times have unlocked the door leading to great opportunities. As smart technologies and shifting employment structures reshape the future of work, this Student Development Programme emphasises on the need to rethink the skills and knowledge, students will need to be ready for the future.

Dear Sir,

Greetings from the Department of Business Administration, St.Anne's Degree College for Women, Halasuru!

Profound thanks for taking our call and accepting our request to deliver a session on "Preparing for Effective Group Discussion" as part of the National level Student Development Program.

At the outset, I would like to once again utilize this opportunity to introduce our institution. St.Anne's Degree College for Women at Halasuru, Bangalore carries the proud tradition of the education ministry of Sisters of St.Anne's, Madras, that began in the 19th century. The college was firmly established in 2005 and has gained its popularity through quality education and significant progress in its contribution towards the society. It has shown tremendous growth over the years and offers programmes in undergraduate and postgraduate studies across various streams, for the young girls to face the society confidently.

You are requested to kindly deliver the session between 11.00 am and 12.00 pm IST on 26th June 2021. The link for the webinar will be sent shortly.

Do accept this as a formal invite for the session.
