Autism awareness programme aims to put attention towards the obstacles that people with autism face every day. As a major global health issue, autism needs to gain more understanding. Each year, World Autism Awareness Day is celebrated on April 2nd globally to spread awareness about Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) neurodevelopmental disorder that distorts the communication and social interaction skills of a person.

The symptoms of ASD can be detected before a child reaches the age of three years old, and the disorder is mainly caused by genetics and biological differences in brain development. However, the disorder can be effectively dealt with if the patient or parents seek medical help as soon as possible after the diagnosis.

Krishna centre for special school organized an autism awareness programme on 9th April 2022.

Before the program start there was badges provided to everyone which marked the autism awareness day.

The programme was started by Sindhu ma'am by giving an introduction on autism and then an autistic kid sang a prayer song.

There was a dance by autistic kids which marked that there is no difference between them and others they are different and they are unique.

The autism awareness program was celebrated by a cake cutting

There was a brief discussion on autism, the types of autism, what might be the causes for it, how to treat a kid with autism. All the information was very useful for the parents and knowledge for the students and others present there.

The girls from St. Anne's degree college from rehabilitation department gave a beautiful dance performance.

Then there was a question and answering session where parents and students cleared some of their doubts regarding autism.

Then Sindhu ma'am concluded the program with a vote of thanks.
